Tutoring Experience

For the past 12 years, I've worked with students from various backgrounds, helping them master Physics at all levels, including IB, A-Levels, and AP. I've supported students preparing for their exams and helped them excel with a solid grasp of the subject's core principles.

Throughout my career, I have also provided tailored guidance for students aiming for advanced physics competitions and university entrance exams. My students have consistently demonstrated marked improvements in their performance, leading to successful admissions into prestigious programs worldwide.
